Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:

☐ the entire international application☒ claims Nos. 7, 8, 17-19 because:

☐ the said international application, or the said claims Nos. _____
relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):☒ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. 7, 8 are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. _____ are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.☐ no international search report has been established for said claims Nos. _____☐ the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing does not comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions in that:

the written form

☐ has not been furnished☐ does not comply with the standard

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-6, 9-16, 20-25	YES
	Claims	26	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	4-6, 15	YES
	Claims	1-3, 9-14, 16, 20-26	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-6, 9-16, 20-26	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: DE 1 273 415 B (RHEINMETALL GMBH)
18 July 1968 (1968-07-18);

D2: EP 0 139 287 A (FERAG AG)
2 May 1985 (1985-05-02).

3. Document D1 discloses (the references between parentheses relate to said document):
- a conveying apparatus having a plurality of conveying bodies (2) and roller bodies which are in operative connection with the conveying bodies and have a plurality of rollers (4), wherein the roller bodies are arranged between guide rails (1) and the conveying bodies (2) such that the rollers (4) can be rotated freely upon displacement of the conveying bodies (2), and wherein the roller bodies have a connecting body (5) consisting of an elastic material (see column 3, lines 35-39);
- and
- a method of conveying articles, wherein a conveying body (2), for conveying a product, is moved between rolling bodies which butt against guide rails (1), and both the guide rails (1) and the rolling bodies are stationary.

- 3.1 The subject matter of claim 26 thus lacks novelty (PCT Article 33(2)).
- 3.2 The subject matter of claim 1 thus differs from the known conveying apparatus in that the roller bodies have axes, the rollers being arranged such that they can be rotated about these axes in relation to the connecting body. The connecting body of document D1 is a plastic strip in which balls, rollers, needles or similar rolling-contact bodies (see claim 4) are fixed in a cage-like manner. Since it is generally known that such roller bodies have either axes, about which the rollers are arranged in a rotatable manner or cages for retaining the rollers, the subject matter of claim 1 cannot be regarded as being inventive (PCT Article 33(3)). This is actually only one of several obvious possibilities from which a person skilled in the art would choose according to the circumstances, without thereby being inventive.
4. The dependent claims do not meet the PCT requirements for inventive step. The reasons are as follows:
- the features of claims 2, 3, 9-14, 16 and 23 are also known from D1;
 - the features of claim 20 are a matter of common practice in the art;
 - it is generally known to connect the conveying bodies of such conveying apparatuses in order to

Box III

1. Amended claims 7 and 8, which do not form part of the original claims, have not been searched.
2. The application does not meet the requirements of PCT Article 6 because amended claims 17-19 are unclear:
 - since the rollers of amended claim 1 are arranged about the axes of the connecting body, they cannot be non-connected, as is disclosed in dependent claims 17 and 18;
 - claim 19, which corresponds to the embodiment of figures 12B and 12C, likewise cannot be dependent on claim 1 because the conveying apparatus of claim 1 contains a plurality of roller bodies having connecting bodies.
